JJH's Largest Pick - 97,000 Pounds!

These are photos of the pick of the sludge storage silos at the North Shore Sanitary District jobsite in Zion, Illinois. The two tanks, which weighed 97,000 pounds each, were built by the owner at an offsite location and transported by JJH, over a two day period, from the fabrication area to the building where they were lifted into place. The trailer used to move the tanks had 13 axles – all of which steered.

The JJH millwright division; All About Equipment, LLC; Gatwood Crane Services; Independent Mechanical; and Manesis Transportation, Inc. worked with Safety Coordinator David Grum and Superintendents Ken Kreason and Bob Johnson to make this a smooth and safe operation.
